

TEACHING GUITAR WORKSHOPS

Why Should I Attend a Teaching Guitar Workshop (TGW)?

- This professional development opportunity is for all music educators – 40 Clock Hours are included! • Receive over $500 in free method books and accessories. • Guitar and Ukulele are both used in a TGW with the focus on starting a guitar class and/or developing a guitar program. • Optional upgrade to earn 3 Graduate Credits from VanderCook College of Music • It's a great opportunity to realize what your beginning students (on any instrument) experience.

What Will I Learn?

- Posture and hand positions • Chord strumming w/ singing in various styles and keys • Beginning classical, finger-style, and pick-style right hand techniques • Improvisation w/ movable pentatonic scales • Note reading in 1st position • Basic theory including barre chords and power chords • Basic guitar maintenance • Classroom management and so much more!

Register online at www.guitaredunet.org

sponsored by:

National Association
for Music Education

NAMM
Foundation®
Grant Recipient

2018 Teaching Guitar Workshop Locations

- June 11 – 15: Highland, Utah
June 18 – 22: Indianapolis, Indiana & Lexington, Kentucky
June 25 – 29: Atlanta, Georgia*
Wichita, Kansas*
Lynnfield, Massachusetts &
St. Louis, Missouri
July 9 – 13: Waterloo, New York & Lynnwood,
Washington
July 16 – 20: Oceanside, California*
Omaha, Nebraska
Nazareth, Pennsylvania &
Waukesha, Wisconsin
July 23 – 27: Chicago, Illinois* & Reston, Virginia*
* Level 2 class offered

Watch GuitarEduNet.org for more locations!

Enroll by January 1 to save $100!

Use promo code EB2018 at checkout.

Teaching Guitar Is Professionally Rewarding

"It's been a shot in the arm for me to be able to get more kids involved...I think it has made me a better teacher, as well."

Eric Larson - Fairmont JHS

"With guitar, I get a much broader scope of the student body...I am teaching a subject that the students feel is current and relevant to their life."

Traci Bolton - Lafayette HS

Register online at www.guitaredunet.org

sponsored by:

National Association
for Music Education

NAAMM
Foundation®
Grant Recipient